

Growing up,
you shared the same clothes,
the same secrets and even the same boyfriends.
So shouldn't you be able to share the same photos?

Of course you should and now you can without squabbling over who gets what and without ordering expensive double and triple prints. Simply log on and sign up at snapfish.com to print, store and most importantly, share your standard and digital photos online with friends and family. After all, sharing is what friendship and snapfish.com are all about.

Get the picture, for a whole lot less.

www.snapfish.com